Yes, he brought this to my attention as well. We are in the process of building a POC for a solution from Motorola called Unity Media Gateway that should meet cybersecurity requirements. We are not opening ports to all of the cameras or directly to the Avigilon server

Thanks.

David,

Mike Adams asked if I knew any updates on allowing Avigilon video be captured in Flock's system. I said I would check. The last time we talked, it sounded like an issue with opening up multiple ports; is that correct? If so, have we figured out a solution? PD is anxious to get this going.

Thanks,
