Good morning,

Got a few more details on this - it isn't something we have dedicated internal team working on, but have a partnership with Lexipol that can help identify and solicit grants. They can also help actually write them for a fee.

You can fill out the info in the link(s) below to get started. It appears to be limited to LPR and Software, but imagine once you're connected with them, they could help with other products as well.

LPR - https://www.police1.com/flock-safety-license-plate-readers-grant-assistance/
Crime Analysis & Software - https://www.police1.com/flock-safety-crime-analysis-investigation-software-grant-assistance/

Attaching our "one-pager" on this but I believe the links above would be the place to start.

Thanks!
Brian
